Welcome to the National Campus Climate Survey (NCCS)

UNM-Gallup has contracted with the NCCS, in partnership with the University of Michigan and SoundRocket, to assist in UNM-Gallup's efforts to assess the campus climate and culture, the programs offered in response to these issues, and the degree to which students feel safe and respected, particularly in regards to issues of sexual misconduct.

Some of the questions in this survey use explicit language, including anatomical names of body parts and specific behaviors, to ask about sexual situations. This survey also asks about sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, and intimate partner violence, which may be upsetting. You may stop the survey at any time. If you would like to talk to someone confidentially about questions or concerns relating to sexual misconduct, including sexual assault, please contact LoboRESPECT Advocacy Center at 505-277-2911.

Why is this survey being done? This survey is being conducted at the four branch campuses University of New Mexico, as well as other institutions of higher education. The purpose of this research is to better understand and improve campus climate with regards to sexual misconduct and related topics.

Why am I being asked to do this? You were selected because you were enrolled as a student at one of the University of New Mexico branch campuses as of March 1, 2017. If you believe you have been selected in error and do not qualify, please email us at nccssm@ssgresearch.com.

What will I be asked to do? You are being asked to participate in an online survey about experiences you have had, or may have had, during your life. This survey will take about 15 minutes on average and asks questions about your experiences before and after you started college. You may leave the survey at any time and resume from your last completed response. You may also skip any questions that you are not comfortable answering.

What are the risks of this research? Your participation in this online survey involves risks similar to a person's everyday use of the Internet. Some of the questions in this survey use explicit language, including anatomical names of body parts and specific behaviors, to ask about sexual situations. This survey also asks about sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, and intimate partner

By clicking "I agree" below, you are consenting to participate in this survey. If you do not agree to participate, please also indicate below and we will not re-contact you about this survey.

- I agree
- I do not agree to participate

What are the risks of this research?

Your participation in this online survey involves risks similar to a person's everyday use of the Internet. Some of the questions in this survey use explicit language, including anatomical names of body parts and specific behaviors, to ask about sexual situations. This survey also asks about sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, and intimate partner violence, which may be upsetting to some people.

What are the benefits of this research?

This survey is not designed to help you personally, but the results may help the University of New Mexico and others nationally in understanding the topics of this survey better. We hope that, in the future, based on your responses, other people might benefit from this study through the implementation of programs that are designed using the data that is collected.

Compensation

You will be included in a random drawing to win one of five $50 VISA gift cards. In addition, students who respond to the survey will also be entered in a drawing for one of three UNM T-shirts, or one of five Lobo Louie Bobbleheads. (Odds of winning will be approximately 1 in 1300.)

Your participation in this survey is completely voluntary. You may choose not to take part at all by not responding to the survey invitations, by indicating that you do not agree to participate at

By clicking "I agree" below, you are consenting to participate in this survey. If you do not agree to participate, please also indicate below and we will not re-contact you about this survey.

Is participation required? May I stop participating at any time?

Your participation in this survey is completely voluntary. You may choose not to take part at all by not responding to the survey invitations, by indicating that you do not agree to participate at the end of this consent process, or by sending an email to the study at nccssm@ssgresearch.com asking to be removed from the survey. If you decide to participate in this research, you may stop participating at any time. You may also skip any questions that you are not comfortable answering, however, there may be key individual items that require a response to proceed because of their use (logically) in tailoring the questionnaire later. If you decide not to participate in this study or if you stop participating at any time, you will not be penalized.

Confidentiality will be maintained to the extent it is allowed by law. The research team will not have access to your responses live, and will only see your responses after your identifying information has been removed. Your participation in this online survey involves risks similar to a person's everyday use of the Internet. Your personal information will remain strictly confidential. To help protect your confidentiality, SoundRocket, an independent survey-research company, has been hired to maintain all study records. More information about SoundRocket's approach to privacy and confidentiality may be found here: <http://www.soundrocket.com/privacy-confidentiality/>.

By clicking "I agree" below, you are consenting to participate in this survey. If you do not agree to participate, please also indicate below and we will not re-contact you about this survey.

What about confidentiality?

You have been assigned a randomly generated, one-time-use ID number as a code to access the survey so that your responses will be separated from any information that could possibly identify you. At no time will your contact information be stored together in the same file as your survey responses.

The data generated from this study will be retained in a secure repository for future evaluation purposes. Records will be kept confidential to the extent provided by federal, state, and local law. SoundRocket will retain your contact information—in a separate, secure file from data—during the data collection period, in order to send you follow up emails if necessary. Upon completion of the study, all names and contact information will be destroyed, and the remaining analytic dataset will be made anonymous. Because data are anonymous once the study is completed, we will be unable to remove your data from the database should you wish it withdrawn at a later date.

This survey is being conducted by the National Campus Climate Survey (NCCS), a collaboration between the University of New Mexico, the University of Michigan, and SoundRocket. If you have any questions about the research study itself, please contact SoundRocket at:
